NRX Logistics Website Privacy Policy

You're Safe Here With Us

NRX Logistics respects your right to privacy, and we take data privacy very seriously.

When Information Is Collected

We collect information from you when you register an account, fill out a form, or "opt-in" for participation in a service, promotion or contest, complete a survey, chat, or engage with other site features. In addition, we collect consumer purchase information, including personally identifiable information, as part of the process of providing services to your customers.

What Information Is Collected

You may visit our site anonymously. When services are engaged, we may collect data that's required to fulfill such services, including your name and contact information (business phone, email, etc), and your customers' names and contact information (delivery addresses, phone numbers, purchase details, etc).

How Information Is Used

We use the information we collect from you, including consumer records, to perform requested services, return inquiries, and maintain accurate customer account records. If you enroll in additional services, like email newsletter, we may also periodically contact you with information related to logistics services we offer.

Please be aware that the processing of orders can involve transmission of personally-identifiable information to essential participants including but not limited to drivers, dispatchers, administrators, verification and processing services, and other integral service providers. In such arrangements, private data is safeguarded to the best of our abilities, and we bear no legal responsibility if it is compromised.

We do not conduct electronic transactions, or store consumer credit card payment information.

Third Parties

Other than those involved in processing and/or transporting merchandise, we will not make any personally-identifiable information available to anyone at any time for any purpose. Specifically, unless you proactively choose to do so, we never share any information with third parties for marketing, sales, email, or solicitations of any kind.

We may use third parties to analyze and store aggregate data for internal purposes to recognize general use patterns and improve our service.

In the event of a merger, consolidation, or sale or transfer of all or substantially all of the business assets of NRX Logistics, the information we collect would generally be transferred to the new entity ("Successor"), and the use of this information by any Successor remains governed by the terms of this privacy policy.

Testimonials

Our customer comments are genuine. We reserve the right to use solicited or unsolicited feedback to promote our services in the form of customer testimonials without compensation, limitation, or advance notice.

Affiliates, Resources, and Links

We may provide links to outside websites for related information, products, and/or services, whether we have formal affiliations with them or not. These websites have their own separate and independent privacy policies, and therefore we are not responsible for the content or activities of any such site.

If you have any feedback about any such site, including concerns about how your personal information may have been used, please contact us.

Cookies

Cookies are small files stored on your computer through your browser that assign a unique identification number to each visitor, and store certain information about your activity on the site. Use of cookies helps improve usability for customers by recognizing visitors who are returning after a prior visit and thereby providing a more personalized experience, and by providing aggregate data about site traffic and patterns we can use to offer new features and functionality in the future. We may also use cookies in the process of retargeted advertising, adhering to IAB certification standards. For more information about retargeting privacy, click here.

Your browser has settings that control the use of cookies on your computer. Each browser is a little different; consult your "Help" menu for specific instructions to modify your cookie settings. If you turn off cookies, some features on our site may not work; we recommend having cookies turned on.

In addition, you may have encountered third party cookies along the path to finding our website. For example, Google may use cookies to track click behavior from its search results. In such cases, data use and privacy are subject solely to the terms and policies of the third party. NRX Logistics has no authority or control over such activity, and no responsibility whatsoever for its use or protection.

Notices

If an instance presents itself involving important news that in our view the bulk of customers would reasonably want to receive promptly (for example a product recall notice), such notification may be provided by email even if you have not opted in, or have unsubscribed, from email services.

Disclosure

We may disclose any personally-identifiable information you provide to New England Retail Express under the following circumstances:

> 1. If instructed, or reasonably believed required, by an authority to comply with any law, regulation, governmental request, or judicial process;
>
> 2. If such disclosure is necessary or appropriate to perform services, to process any order, or to conduct any services or promotions in which you participate;
>
> 3. To protect the rights or property of NRX Logistics, its users, sponsors, providers, owners, investors, licensors, or merchants, including the right to limit fraud in cases where fraud is reasonably suspected.

Consent

By using our site, you consent to all terms contained herein.

Changes

We may change the terms of this privacy policy at any time at our sole discretion. Any changes will be reflected on this page, and considered in effect upon posting.

This policy was last modified on October 5, 2014

Questions/Comments

If you have any additional questions or concerns about our privacy policy or how we use the data we collect, feel free to contact us and we would be happy to answer any questions.